PERSONAL PROFILE

I'm a passionate front-end web developer. I thrive on turning visions into digital reality. I have 3.5 years of professional experience. I've been lucky enough to help many organizations improve their online presence. I drive my journey in web development with a deep passion for coding and an unending curiosity. I'm always ready to learn and polish my skills, and keep up with new technologies. Programming isn't a job - it's a passion that keeps me driven.
